Dear Mr. Morals,

I was pleased to receive your New Year's greetings because they reminded me of the pleasant visit I had with you and your wife at The Hague. When you are in The Hague again you must see The Vermeer View of Delft which has been cleaned and restored since you saw it.

My wife & I left The Hague in July last year when I was assigned to The Canadian Defence College for a year. The State Department and The Three Armed Services each is represented on The course. It has been a most interesting experience studying the complex of political,

Economic and military problems that confront us today. At the end of this month the entire class, 30 members, leaves by plane for a two month tour of Europe. It will include visits to Berlin and Belgrade and should be most interesting.

With all good wishes for your continued success in your work.

Sincerely,

J. Harold Skellam
