

November 12, 1960

Nov. 12, 1960

"Star"

Muñoz Praised

By N.Y. Times

NEW YORK (AP)—“We wish Governor Muñoz Marin another good four years,” The New York Times said yesterday in an editorial.

The editorial, entitled “Puerto Rico Holds Its Course,” said that “The work of rebuilding the economy and culture of Puerto Rico, which Governor Muñoz Marin and his associates have been carrying on since 1948, will continue,” now that the Governor has been re-elected.

The editorial continued:

“The Governor’s quarrel with the island’s Roman Catholic bishops over such issues as birth control, sterilization and religious education may have cut the majority he would otherwise have had, but its effects were not politically serious. Governor Muñoz Marin, himself a Catholic, evidently carried many of his co-religionists with him.”