Dr. J.W. Harris
Polytechnic Institute of Puerto Rico
San German, P.R.

My dear Doctor Harris:

As you celebrate the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of Polytechnic Institute it must be with a feeling of great satisfaction to look back over the years of accomplishment through lives molded for better service to their fellowmen. May I join with the great number who wish you and Polytechnic Institute well on this memorable occasion.

As you pass the torch on to another I think you may feel that the one who takes up your work will fit into the ideals and best traditions of the school you founded and have worked for throughout the years. Changes will come, as they have come already, but our trust is in One who changeth not but One who works out His unchanging purpose in the midst of constant change.

May God bless you and Mrs. Harris and your family as you continue your work in whatever field God may use you.

Fraternally yours,

Barney N. Morgan
