Dear Dr. Icel:

Because you included my name in your notes to School & Society, I received a complimentary copy of the best issue. Thanks. I have read & reread the article on joys & sorrows of college teaching. One would have thought that Poly was one of the 30 colleges on the Gurney since so many things are true here, from the statement on page 242, column I, # 5, that the institution is behind in . . . lighting and physical surrounding, to the last statement of the associate professor of Biology, with which statement the article ends.
