GUAJOLOTE RANCH
DILLEY
TEXAS

Havana's Most Beautiful Shrine.

No, it is not a pleasure park, it is a resting place for departed loved ones.

The terraces, landscaping of flowers and trees and grades all join hands to set off the loveliness of the marble markers, placed there as a perpetual remembrance.

No gloomy granite blocks, nor sorrow sighing shafts touch the heart there with cold despair. Then what is it which makes family and strangers see another side to separation?

It is simply the exquisite white marble figures of angels and flowers above each resting place. The workmanship, sculpture of wonderful skill, the effect of peace and beauty leave our hearts quiet and willing to await another meeting "beyond the sunset".
